

Enjoy the Music.com – Jan 2001: CES – Las Vegas Show

(...)

The most interesting and visually stunning equipment stands at the show comes from Copulare of Germany. Copulare makes everything from cabinets to hold your precious vinyl and CD/VD discs to compete equipment racks and custom turntable stands. The Copulare stand as seen above includes adjustable spike feet, sand/lead fillable legs while the top piece is also sand/lead fillable and includes a magnificent inlaid wood design ($25,000). Various inlaid wood patterns are available. Pear and Ebony woods are used in the design below which is the symbol is the oriental "flower of life". An interesting side note is that on some of their units you have a lead filled section on the top and sand on the bottom. By flipping over the table top you can choose the type of resonance dampening you desire to meet your component's needs. If there is a question as to what is the ultimate stand in the world, the Copulare line could very well be it.